WHAT IS GOING ON AT THAT RESORT.

Donkey Party - News of the perature in the western. Week and the Program for This A few of those Present.

Hot Springs, August 10. A lawn tennis tournament has been one of the attractions during the past week. It was held at the court adjoining the Mountain Park hotel and was one of the most successful ever held here. It began on Thursday morning and closed last evening. There were eight entries. The contest for the championship at singles narrowed down to Mr A. W. Bronson and Mr. H. O. Cunningham. Unfortunately Mr. Bronson was taken sick and forced to retire and Dr. Barrows played as his substitute. Mr. Cunningham won the first two sets was declared the winner. The prize was a Slocum special racket, Mr. P. N. Booth was successful in the contest for second place and aside from the honor was awarded one dozen Wright and Dit son tennis balls. The matches for the championship at doubles resulted in a victory for Dr. Barrows and Mr. Booth Mr. W. E. McCaw, of Macon, and Mr. Bronson won the second. The prizes were two silver match safes and two pairs of cuff buttons. The games were decidedly interesting and the tournament was enjoyed not only by the guests of the hotel, but by a large number of the town people. The other contestants. aside from those named, were Messrs. H. and C. Rumbough, S. A. Cunningham and F. H. Porter. During the first day's games the latter was overcome by the leat and obliged to give up.

Last night the gaests at the hotel enjoyed a donkey party in the hall room, and old and young minted in making the affair an enjoyable one. Nearly everyone participated in the pastime, It lasted from 8 to 9 and when finally the last had from 8 to 9 and when finally the last had tried their luck and the distances were measured, it was found that Judge Fred Phillips, who is holding court in Asheville this week, had passed all competitors and won the first prize for get lemen it consisted of an embossed leather card case and two packs of cards. The gentleman's second prize was won by W. J. Walker. It was a very pretty pensknife. The boody, a handsome une was carried. Watter. It was a very pretty pen-kmite.
The booby, a handsome pipe was carried away by Mr. Patten, of Philadelphia.
Mr. Patten's attempt at pinning the tail on the donkey resulted in his starting in an exactly opposite direction to that on which the figure was located. He brought up against a window easing about fifty feet away.

which the figure was located. He brought up against a window casing about fifty feet away.

The ladies' first prize, a beautiful china rose jar, was won by Miss Harrison, who succeeded in placing the candia appendage within a lew inches of where nature would have put it. It was the best effort made last evening. Mrs. Patters secured the second prize, a bottle of choice perfumery and Miss Mary Walker took the booby, a doll. After the game a very pleasant informal hop was held in the ball room. It lasted until II o'clock.

All in all the week just passed has been a very lively one at Hot Springs. With dances, the tone nament, the eard party and the drives, the guests could not complain of the amasuments or of the variety and Sunday was indeed welcomed by every one. The Thursday evening progressive either was unusually successful—over forty couples joined in the game. For this week the program so far actures a german for the children on Wednesday night and one for the older guests on Saturday night. The latter is to be made the affair of the season. Among the guests at the bottle sleevelle is represented by Mrs. Lewis Maddux who is spending several weeks here. Mr. Maddux come down on Saturdays and remains until Monday.

One Hundred and Seventy-Five Cases on the Docket.

The August term of the superior cour was begun this morning. Judge Fred Phillips was on the bench. He reached the city last night from Hot Springs where he has been spending several days. The call of the docket was completed and the court adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The first case on call is a divorce suit, Taylor vs. Taylor.
The docket for this term includes 175 cases although but fifty-four are upon the calendar. It is probable that the present session will last three weeks. No mportant local cases are up for a hear-

DID NOT ATTACK VANCE.

COL. POLK TALKS FREELY TO "THE CITIZEN."

The President of the National Farmers' Alliance Talks for "The Citizen" Readers-Firm For the Sub-Treasury Bill.

Col. L. L. Polk, president of the Na tional Farmers' Alliance is in the city and will at least stay to the opening of the State convention which begins its meeting here to-morrow. Col. Polk has just returned from the State meetings of of Alabama and Mississippi and is decidedly jubilant over the outcome. That they were the largest and most enthusiastic meetings that were ever held in those two States he candidly admits and with the same breath bespeaks the same success for the North Corolina meeting. In Wednesday he will be obliged to leave to attend the Tennessee convention in session at Nashville. Just at present he

Col. Polk was seen this morning and talked of questions relating to the Alliance. On the controversy between the state organ of the order and Senator Vance he did not care to talk, but of his National Senator and Senator Controversy between the state organ of the order and Senator Vance he did not care to talk, but of his own position and regarding the charges nade that he had attacked the senator in his speech at Greensboro he said:

"I used substantially the same language in the town of Greensboro, when speak-ing of the sub-treasury bill that I used ing of the sub-treasury bill that I used when before the senatorial committee, and in every speech from that day to this. There is no sort of method by which any speech of mine could be fairly construed into an attack on Senator Vance. Besides that, I am man enough to call a man's name and not attack him by innucudo and I would be a coward if I alsandoned my belief simply because my personal friend Senator Vance had chosen to place himself in line with Carlisle and place himself in line with Carlisle and other leading senators. Nothing was farther from my mind than an assault upon him, but much as 1 esteem him 1 would not shrink from it if 1 thought it to be my duty to my people and the cause I represent. In the discharge of my offi-cial duties, however, as president of this great national order, I cannot afford to discuss men but measures. I cannot at-ford to talk personal politics but must keep an eye on the principle. I havebeen grossly and willfully misrepresented but I shall not swerve one iota from what I conceive to be the path of duty.

conceive to be the path of duty.

"No man regrets more than myself this seeming conflict between the senator and the people, but I am in no manner responsible.

"The contest in which we are now engaged in my judgment involves issues of far greater magnitude and of more vital importance than any which has ever engaged the public mind of the country. It is a question of liberty or slavery try. It is a question of liberty or slavery— a slavery far more degrading in its char-acter than even African servitude. We realze this to the fullest extent, and are nat man has a higher regard for Senator

Vance than mysch.
